INTRO

[D] [G] [D] [A] Instrumental intro

VERSE 1

[D] Coolers on the porch and the screen door slams
[G] Six families deep with their summer plans
[D] Too many voices in one square room
[A] Card table shaking in the late day gloom
[D] Beer cans shining on the dark board wood
[G] Life was messy and it felt so good
[D] Late August heat on the Lake Byron shore
[A] [D] Someone's always laughing, someone's wanting more

CHORUS

[D] But when the house gets loud and the walls begin to shake
[G] (Walls begin to shake)
[D] There's a quiet kind of strength you didn't think could break
[G] (Didn't think could break)
[D] Measured not in decibels but in summers weathered through
[A] [D] By the people who are standing in the room beside you

[Bm] Karen's by the window with a half smile grace
[D] Finding the steady in a frantic place
[G] She saves a chair for Bill when he's looking for a light
[A] Knowing what to say and knowing when to keep it tight
[D] He's a complicated man with a roar and a thirst
[Bm] But she knew the best of him before she saw the worst
[G] Just a nod in the kitchen, a look through the steam
[A] [D] Not a storybook romance but a lived-in dream

[D] But when the house gets loud and the walls begin to shake
[G] (Walls begin to shake)

[D] Measured not in decibels but in summers weathered through
[A] [D] By the people who are standing in the room beside you

BRIDGE

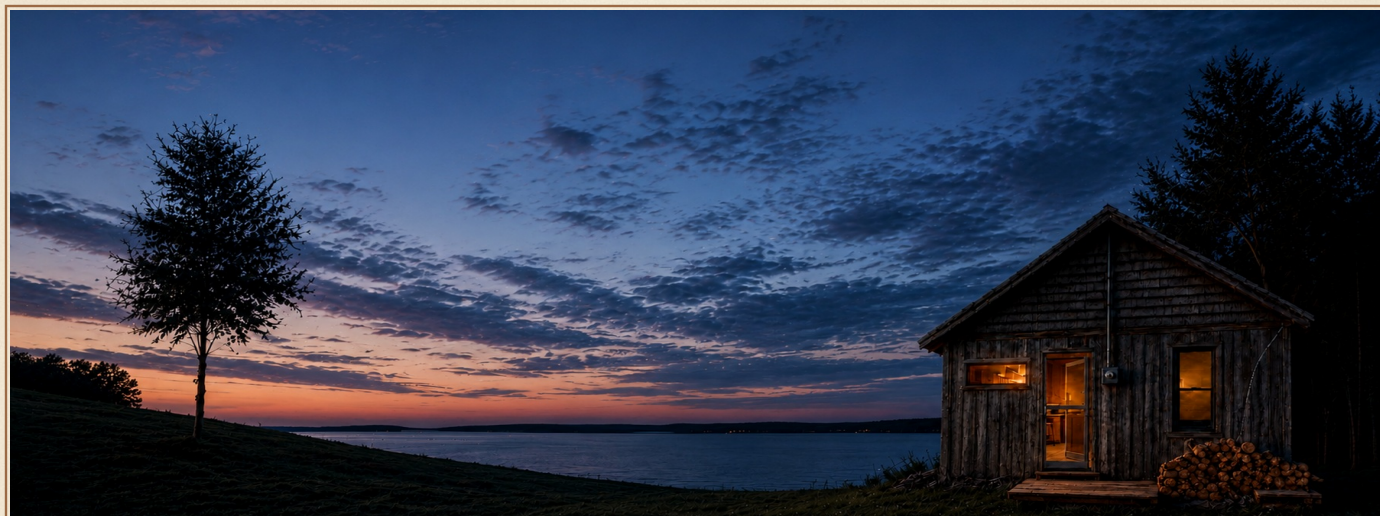

[Bm] And the first cool wind comes across the bay
[G] Chasing all the August heat away
[D] The water goes dark and the screen doors cease
[A] A heavy kind of silence, not quite peace
[Bm] In the drive home after fifty people talk
[G] (People talk)
[Em] [A] It's just the two of them on a long slow walk

FINAL CHORUS

[G] Oh the house was loud and the walls would always shake
[D] (Walls would always shake)
[G] But Karen's quiet strength was a light for Bill to take [D] (Light for Bill to take)
[G] Measured not in noise but in summers weathered through
[A] [D] By the people who are standing in the room beside you
